

MORITZ EMANUEL BONDELI

Yale University, Department of Political Science, Rosenkranz Hall, New Haven, CT 06520
(+1) 475 414 89 45 ◊ moritz.bondeli@yale.edu ◊ mbondeli.github.io

EDUCATION

Yale University, U.S.A.	2019 - 2025 (expected)
Ph.D., Political Science (in progress)
Committee: Isabela Mares (chair), Milan Svobik, Steven Wilkinson
Fields: Comparative Politics, Political Economy, Quantitative Methods
M.Phil., Political Science	December 2022
M.A., Political Science	May 2021
 University of Oxford, Brasenose College, U.K.	 2017 - 2019
M.Phil., Politics: European Politics and Society
Advisor: David Rueda
 University of Lausanne, Switzerland	 2014 - 2017
B.A., Political Science
Copenhagen Business School, Erasmus Exchange	Fall 2016

WORKING PAPERS

- “Noblesse Aveugle? Reactionary Bureaucrats, Political Violence and Democratic Erosion in Weimar Germany” (link)
- “Threats of Violence and Political Ambition: Experimental Evidence” (link), under review
- “Conditional Humanitarianism: Citizen Preferences for Economic Sanctions in Democratic Sender States” with Isabela Mares and Ryan Pike, under review
- “Trusting the Rich to ‘Tax the Rich’? Voter Inferences from Candidate Affluence” (link)

WORK IN PROGRESS

- “Disturbing the Peace: Mass Politics and Political Violence in Weimar Germany”
(dissertation book project)
- “Using Dimensions of Indifference to Embed Randomized Experiments in the Normal Operations of Organizations” with Christopher Harshaw and Fredrik Sävje

RESEARCH GRANTS

Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation Emerging Scholar Award ($25'000)	2024 - 2025
MacMillan Center International Dissertation Research Fellowship ($17'800)	2023 - 2024
Rapoport Family Foundation Doctoral Dissertation Survey Research Grant ($14'810)	2023
NSF-APSA Doctoral Dissertation Research Improvement Grant ($14'985)	2022 - 2024

MacMillan Center Pre-Dissertation Research Grant ($4'100) 2022
Georg Walter Leitner Fellowship ($2'500) 2019 - 2021

TEACHING

TF: 'Capitalism and Crisis', Isabela Mares (Undergraduate) Spring 2023
Student Evaluation: 4.8/5 (link)

TF: 'Foundations of Statistical Inference', Fredrik Sävje (Graduate) Fall 2022
Student Evaluation: 5/5 (link)

TF: 'Theory and Practice of Quantitative Methods', P.M. Aronow (Graduate) Spring 2022
Student Evaluation: 5/5 (link)

TF: 'Foundations of Statistical Inference', Fredrik Sävje (Graduate) Fall 2021
Student Evaluation: 4.8/5 (link)

PRESENTATIONS AND INVITED TALKS

NEWEPS-23, Columbia University 2024

Northeast Regional Workshop in European Politics, × 2 2022, 2024

American Political Science Association (APSA) Annual Meeting, × 2 2023, 2024

European Political Science Association (EPSA) Annual Meeting, × 2 2023, 2024

Leitner Political Economy Seminar, Yale University, × 2 2023, 2024

Political Violence in Democracies Workshop, University of Amsterdam 2024

Guest Lecture "Is the Internet Good for Democracy?", New Jersey Institute of Technology 2023

American Politics and Public Policy Workshop, Yale University 2023

SERVICE

Editorial Assistant, American Political Science Review
with Alexandre Debs 2024 - 2025

SKILLS

Languages German (native), English (fluent), French (fluent), Danish (basic)
IT R, Qualtrics, Stata, beginner Python

REFERENCES

Isabela Mares, Arnold Wolfers Professor of Political Science, Yale University, isabela.mares@yale.edu

Milan Svolik, Elizabeth S. & A. Varick Stout Professor of Political Science, Yale University, milan.svolik@yale.edu

Steven Wilkinson, Nilekani Professor of India and South Asian Studies and Professor of Political Science, Yale University, steven.wilkinson@yale.edu

Fredrik Sävje, Associate Professor of Econometrics, Uppsala University, fredrik.savje@nek.uu.se